Revised Sales Tax Diversion Measure Appears In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The new "Conlin plan" for revision of the sales tax diversion amendment appeared in the House today.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) filed for introduction a proposed constitutional amendment to remove the "time-bomb effect" of the present diversion of state sales tax money to schools and local governments.

Conlin said the new plan had the approval of school and local officials.

The plan would divert a flat two cents of the three-cent tax to the schools. This would supplant the present one-half cent the schools get directly and the annual appropriation of school aid mandated by the diversion amendment.

The two cents would be returned to the schools in the year in which it is collected. The present school aid appropriation must be based on the previous year's sales tax collections. This is the "time-bomb" Conlin seeks to eliminate.

Under the proposal, the schools would be required to take over the annual contribution to teachers' retirement the state now makes. Even so, Conlin said, the schools will get the same amount of money they get now.

This year's version eliminates last year's controversial proposal to liquidate the $500,000 veterans' trust fund to tide the schools over the transition from the old to the new system.

The 1953 plan died before it reached a vote on the House floor. Opposition of veteran's organizations was one of the reasons.

Conlin said the proposal is to let the transition work itself out naturally by deferring the effectiveness of the change to July 1, 1955.

The one-half cent of the sales tax now going to cities and townships would be left unchanged except that public wards, hospital patients and prison inmates would be dropped from the population counts of local units in which they were held.

Russia Gets No Butter Bargain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks has refused to let a Minnesota exporter ship surplus American butter to Russia.

The Commerce Department announced Tuesday night that Weeks had formally denied an export license to Dwayne Andreas of the Honeycomb Co., Mankato, Minn. The department gave no further details on Weeks' action.

The secretary told newsmen last Friday he would not approve a license to permit shipment of butter to Russia at a cost "considerably lower" than prices paid by American housewives.

Andreas had mentioned an offer to pay about 50 cents a pound for a large stock of surplus butter held by the government under the price support program. The government paid dairymen about 65 cents a pound. In Washington, householders pay 73-75 cents a pound.

After One Year, President Still Enjoys His Job

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Eisenhower hopped out of bed this morning and looked in the mirror, he may have thought: "How did I ever come to let myself in for this?"

He had moved into the White House one year ago. It had been a tough, grinding year. The face which gazed back at him in the mirror looked a little older.

Free From Abuse

He was still as jaunty as ever, working harder and longer hours, perhaps, than any he had endured since those days on the eve of the invasion of Normandy, nine years ago.

He seemed, judging from the quick grin he could produce, to be enjoying his job. He was still enormously popular. And he was still amazingly free from personal abuse.

In his first year, he frankly conceded, he was a political novice. Some of his critics said he was more anxious to be liked than to lead.

Will He Fight?

Last year he had Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio doing much of the in-fighting for him at the Capitol. Taft's dead now.

Toward the end of his first year, Eisenhower gave signs of a toughening attitude. That was when Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made his unexpected criticism of Eisenhower's continued aid to allies who trade with Red China. Secretary of State Dulles replied, defending his policy, and Eisenhower backed Dulles.

If that wasn't Eisenhower's notification to Congress his novice days were over, maybe this was: His statement that the Republicans don't deserve to keep control of Congress in November's elections unless they pass a progressive program.

Will he fight for his program? Everybody's waiting to see.

Search Called Off For Lost Fishermen In Detroit River

DETROIT (AP)—The Coast Guard has called off the search for three fishermen missing since Sunday on the ice-clogged Detroit River.

Lt. Comdr. C. W. Scharf, Detroit Coast Guard commander, said, "There is no hope of finding these men alive."

Ice and fog had hampered the search for Walter W. Riley, Grosse Ile; Paul Noland, 44, Gibraltar, and Otis Nelson, 45, Trenton. They were last spotted near where the river flows into Lake Erie.

New Bridge Bond Plan Outlined

LANSING (AP)—On the assumption that the Michigan Supreme Court will invalidate the sale of Mackinac Straits bridge bonds, Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) proposed a new method today of financing the Straits crossing.

Nichols introduced a constitutional amendment to permit a $100,000,000 bond issue to build the bridge with toll charges.

The court currently is considering Nichols' suit to invalidate the sale of $99,800,000 in revenue bonds to a private syndicate to finance the construction.

He accused the bond syndicate of attempting to "hijack" the Supreme Court into validating the bonds.

"I want to show that we are not opposed to the bridge and that there is another method of financing the bridge without the bond issue now in the courts," Nichols said.

Kidnapers Disagree In Story Of $300,000 San Francisco Snatch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two one-time private detectives jailed as abductors in the "Case of the Kidnaped Twin" split up today—police said one confessed and blamed the other, who denied some of the story but essentially wouldn't talk.

The victim, short, round-faced Leonard Moskowitz, 36, was rescued unharmed Tuesday morning after 2½ days of captivity. No ransom was paid despite demands of first $500,000 and then $300,000.

Under California's "Little Lindbergh Law," kidnapping with bodily harm carries a maximum penalty of death and a minimum of life without parole. Kidnaping without harm carries a penalty of life with the possibility of parole.

Caught In Phone Booth

Moskovitz said he was not injured, but Dist. Atty. Thomas Lynch told newsmen the interpretation of bodily harm is up to a jury. Moskowitz was bound and bound and shackled during most of his imprisonment.

Joseph William Lear, 43, of Sacramento, Calif., was caught in a telephone booth making a ransom call to the victim's identical twin, Alfred.

Police said Lear led them to a rented house, where a stocking-foot raiding party broke in, rescued Moskowitz and arrested 57-year-old Harold Jackson of Sacramento as he stood in his shorts.

At police request, all news outlets had voluntarily held back the story until Moskowitz was safe.

Police said Lear, a hearing aid salesman, made a complete confession after he and Jackson had been booked on suspicions of kidnapping.

Says He Was Duped

Chief Homicide Inspector Frank Ahern said Lear related:

Lear had believed he was working with Jackson on a detective case until Moskowitz was bundled into a house rented by Jackson and threatened with death unless Moskowitz' family paid $500,000 ransom. Lear followed Jackson's lead from fear.

Moskovitz himself said Lear kept muttering "I didn't know it was to be this kind of a job or I wouldn't have gone into it."

Ahern questioned Lear's story of being duped into the kidnapping. He said Lear and Jackson bought chains, ropes, flashlights and other gear in San Jose two days before the kidnapping for use in the job. He also pointed out that Lear made ransom calls and was often left alone in the house and could have left at any time.

Inspector Don Scott reported Jackson denied much of Lear's story, disputed other parts and agreed with some.

Democrats Hope For Unity With Southern Wing

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said today there are signs of a new unity between Southern Democrats and national party leaders which should pay off in the November elections involving control of Congress.

Holland, who led a group of Southern senators in boycotting a midsummer party rally at Chicago last year, said he is joining fully in preparations for a party meeting scheduled at Miami Beach, Fla., March 6.

Conditions Changed?

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said in a statement former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, is expected to be the main speaker. Party members from Southern states will attend.

Holland said in an interview he believes conditions have changed materially since the 1953 Chicago rally.

"I think the attitude of the national party leadership is decidedly more considerate to the South now than it was at that time," Holland declared. "I feel the signs are encouraging for better cooperation within the party."

Loyalty Oath Buried

Stevenson lost four Southern states to Eisenhower in the 1952 elections. He had taken a stand in favor of civil rights legislation. In this connection, Holland said he was pleased by Stevenson's statements on a visit to Atlanta late last year.

"He said at Atlanta that the South had made more significant progress in the field of solving civil rights problems than had any other part of the nation," Holland said. "That is different talk from some that we heard in 1952."

Holland noted, too, that the Chicago meeting had virtually buried the "loyalty oath" to which Southerners had objected strenuously. The oath pledged 1952 convention delegates to try to get convention nominees on their state ballots under the Democratic label.

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Florence Dalton, 34, accused of killing her two children, sat in a wheel chair with her eyes closed Tuesday at her court arraignment. It was in the psychopathic ward of Receiving Hospital.

An innocent plea was entered for her by the court.

Police were summoned to the Dalton home Friday night to discover the children, David, 10, and Shirley, 5, beaten and slashed to death. Their mother lay on a bed bleeding from gashed wrists and neck.

The father, Charles, 33, said he and his wife had been arguing about the religious education of the children.

Senate Plans Night Session To Debate Great Lakes Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first night session of the term was a possibility today as the Senate readied its sixth day of debate on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.), blocked Tuesday by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.) from limiting debate at this point, announced he was considering a night session to bring the debate to a head.

The Senate is arguing on a bill to allow American participation with Canada in building the 27-foot-deep waterway up the St. Lawrence from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

Morse objected to cutting off debate, he said, until he is satisfied there had been a reasonable discussion.

Some senator supporters of the seaway, meanwhile, speculated that Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), regarded as a foe of the project, is considering a switch.

Dirksen, who voted against seaway legislation in 1952, told the Senate yesterday his "hostility" has lessened.

Chief reason for this change, he said, is the stress that President Eisenhower has put on the defense aspects of the project.

French Retake Key Port In Indochina

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The French announced today they have retaken the key Mekong River port of Thakhek, evacuated by the French almost a month ago when the Communist-led Vietnamese thrust came after tanked French forces drove to within six miles of the border town in a sweep aimed at recovering central Laotian territory from the rebels.

The Vietnamese apparently never occupied Thakhek, although they surrounded the town and established positions north and south of it, posing a threat to neighboring Thailand across the Mekong. The French said reports from Thakhek spoke of "only a few light clashes with no losses to our side."

The French drove the French from the town and surrounding area in a surprise drive just before Christmas that split Indochina in two. The French did not defend Thakhek at the time but now they are trying to regain the lost territory.

In the Thai tribal country of northwest Indochina, French artillery opened a heavy barrage against Vietnamese troops concentrated around Dien Bien Phu. The rebels continued their buildup for an expected assault on that French fortress.

Church Groups Ban New Hughes Movie, 'The French Line'

NEW YORK (AP)—A powerful protest church group has joined the attack on Howard Hughes' movie "The French Line."

The Christian Herald magazine and the Protestant Motion Picture Council's National Reviewing Group said Tuesday in a joint statement that the movie is "an offense to all decent people both on the grounds of morals and plain good taste."

The council says it speaks for 48 million American protestants. The Roman Catholic National Legion of Decency on Monday put the film in its "condemned" classification.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the magazine, said both the publication and the council oppose any relaxing of the present motion picture code.

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N. Y. (AP)—John Newton, 49, an electrical engineer, borrowed an idea from a prison death house Tuesday to kill himself.

Chanting POWs Leave Stockade At Panmunjom

By FORREST EDWARDS

PANMUNJOM, Thursday (AP)—India completed early today the historic turnover of 21,809 anti-Red prisoners to the U. N. Command as North Korean broadcasts declared the action "destroys" the armistice.

The last prisoner, a Chinese, was turned over at 12:55 a. m. (9:55 a. m. Wednesday CST) at the end of a surprisingly smooth operation during which the North Korean and Chinese captives often sang and cheered in the rain and mud.

Red Threats Fizzle

The Indian Command announced that 14,227 Chinese and 7,582 North Koreans were turned out of the compounds at Panmunjom, ending more than three years of captivity for many of them.

The Indians said 72 Chinese and 32 North Koreans asked to go home or to a neutral country during the operation, which began Wednesday morning.

The Communists, who had protested the turnover plans bitterly, made no threatening gestures as the prisoners streamed southward.

Warning Mild

The U. N. Command has promised all of the prisoners their freedom at midnight Friday.

Red China's Peiping radio Wednesday night repeated its warning that "any unilateral action with regard to the prisoners of war is absolutely impermissible." But the warning was mildly worded and officials said the Reds apparently had accepted the Indian Command's decision to return unre-patriated prisoners as an accomplished fact.

The transfer went smoothly despite minor hitches and a cold drizzling rain.

Tourist Council Plans For 1954

DETROIT (AP)—Plans for advertising and promoting Michigan's Tourist program in 1954 were outlined today at a meeting of the Michigan Tourist Council.

"The trend toward a buyers' market, with increased competition from other states, makes it imperative that we re-examine our advertising and promotional program at this time," said council chairman Robert W. Budd.

Members reviewed the council's new movie "Michigan—Winter Wonderland", featuring skiing, ice fishing and other winter sports. The film soon will be available to television stations, service clubs and other organizations.

Robert J. Furlong, council executive secretary, said this is the first of a series with others planned to feature Michigan's spring, summer and fall attractions.

Albert Heidenreich Killed, Four Hurt In Smash-Up Of Cars, Truck

Albert A. Heidenreich, 60, of 1022 9th Ave. S., was killed at 7:50 p. m. yesterday on US-241 near the north city limits of Escanaba in a collision of a truck and three passenger cars on slippery pavement.

Four persons were injured, none seriously, and three are receiving treatment in St. Francis Hospital where their condition today was reported as "pretty good."

Heidenreich, yard superintendent for the Escanaba Paper Company, died almost instantly. His death was the first traffic fatality in Delta County so far this year.

The injured in St. Francis Hospital are:

John J. Goulet, 26, of 1414 Lake Shore Drive.

Roy Van Effen, 621 N. 18th St.

Mrs. Anna Marie Olson, Dayton, Iowa, mother of Dr. Carl of Gladstone.

Injured but not hospitalized was Mrs. Carl J. Olson, 621 Michigan Ave., Gladstone wife of Dr. Olson.

Out Of Control

Escanaba police who investigated the accident that occurred just inside the north city limits reported that Goulet's car, skidding on icy pavement when he applied the brakes, started the series of crashes involving four vehicles.

Goulet, with Heidenreich and Van Effen as his passengers, was traveling south toward Escanaba on US-241.

As Goulet was passing an L&L truck line tractor-trailer, driven by Telephone E. Frappier, 43, of 823 2nd Ave. S., he applied his brakes in pulling back into his own traffic lane in front of the truck.

Going into a skid and out of control, Goulet's car skidded into a car driven by Waino I. Petaja, 51, of 1909 5th Ave. S., which was headed north. Petaja, employed by the Escanaba Motor Company, was delivering a car owned by Harold Holzgrebe from the garage to the Delta Convalescent home.

Series Of Crashes

After striking the car driven by Petaja, Goulet's car was thrown back into its own lane and into the path of the truck, which knocked the Goulet auto off the highway on the west side.

Going into a spin after being hit by the Goulet car, the car driven by Petaja was hit and pushed off the road by a car driven by Dr. Carl J. Olson, 27, of 621 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, which had been following Petaja at a distance of about 200 feet.

The cars driven by Petaja and Dr. Olson came to a stop off the shoulder on the east side of the highway. The Goulet car traveled a total of about 72 feet from the time it was hit by the truck until it came to a stop, police reported.

The Holzgrebe car driven by Petaja and the Goulet cars were "wrecked," and the front end of Dr. Olson's car was badly smashed, and the damage to the truck was estimated at $1,500, police reported. Dr. Olson's car caught fire after the accident. The blaze was extinguished with assistance of police.

Uninjured in the accident was Dr. and Mrs. Olson's young daughter, Christine.

Goulet's injuries include cuts and bruises, while the others were badly bruised and shocked. The three who were hospitalized have no fractures and their condition is not serious.

Albert A. Heidenreich was born in Hermansville Dec. 7, 1893. He attended business school at Oshkosh and was in telegraphy work, employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway, Peninsula Division, and by the Soo Line before he became associated with the Escanaba Paper Co. in 1920.

He was a member of Delta Lodge 195, F&AM, the Paper Makers Union and the B. of E. E.

Salvation Army Aids 2,943 Needy In County In 1953; 8,806 Garments

The Salvation Army aided 2,943 needy residents of Delta County and 688 transients during 1953, the Army's advisory board was informed by Capt. Louis Thompson, officer in charge, at its annual meeting at the Army headquarters, 112 N. 15th St., last night.

A total of 8,806 garments were given to residents and 309 to transients, it was reported. County needy received 1,101 pairs of shoes from the Army and grocery and fuel orders given amounted to 26 and three, respectively. Meals were given to 124 transients and lodging supplied to 36 during the year.

"In addition, furniture and household goods of all kinds, including dishes, lamps, baby buggies, tables, chairs, stoves, beds, springs, mattresses, curtains and other items were supplied to people in the county," Captain Thompson reported.

Sub-Standard Homes

"We are particularly concerned with the condition and number of sub-standard homes in Delta County," he said. "We found one home during the recent cold wave where five children were living in one poorly heated room sleeping on mattresses huddled close to the fire."

"The were dirty and cold with no father and mother to care for them. In fact, an 11-year-old girl, the oldest of the group, was trying to take care of them the best she could. I asked what they had to eat and she replied 'Pancakes!' and pointed to a sack of flour on a shelf."

Captain Thompson reported that the Salvation Army gave out 150 Christmas baskets of food to provide some Christmas cheer for 742.

Financed By Kettle

These baskets included toys for each child in the family. In addition, the Army financed through Christmas kettle donations a party for 140 unfortunate boys and girls. Each was given a lunch, candy, fruit and a new toy at Christmas time. Kettle donations the past Christmas season totaled $972.

Salvation Army funds paid for 20 of 36 youngsters' attendance at a three-week camp period at Newton Lake, Wis., last July. The Army's contribution for the camp was $273.66.

Board members are W. J. Schmit, Miss Phoebe Anderson, R. N., Walter Peters, James G. Ward, Jr., William Marble, Sam Ham, Dr. Vernon Johnson and Fred Courier.

County Settles Barron's Claim

The Delta County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved a settlement of $600 with Frank Barron, Flat Rock farmer, for damage caused to Barron's sheep by attacks from dogs and adopted a resolution recommending that all townships and municipalities in the county enforce the state dog control law.

Barron had claims totalling $664 against the county but agreed to settle for $600 at a conference with the finance committee of the board.

In recommending the settlement to the board and in urging conformance with the state dog law, Guy Knutson, chairman of the finance committee, said, "The evidence shows that there are too many stray dogs in Delta County. No sheep herder has ever been successful in this county because of the losses caused by dogs. Mr. Barron has gone to a lot of expense in bringing his sheep herd to Delta County from New Zealand and we should remove the obstacle of dog damage to encourage a sheep industry in the county."

The County Board requested that Escanaba Township pay half of the cost of the $600 settlement to Barron. The proposal will be submitted to the township board. In the past the supervisors had an unwritten agreement that townships would bear the cost of dog damages although the legal responsibility is primarily that of the county.

The County Board also approved an agreement for the sale of 60 acres of gravel land near the Delta Convalescent Home to Bichler Brothers for $100 an acre. As a part of the agreement, Bichler Brothers will deed to the county an area of about 10 acres in front of the convalescent home.

Bichler Brothers now holds a lease on this property and adjacent property from the county and will relinquish the lease under the terms of the agreement. The lease has been in effect since 1923 and has four more years to run, with a 10 year renewal option.

By the agreement the county will have access to approximately 50 acres to establish its own gravel pit. William Karas, county road superintendent, said that the gravel is needed by the county for its road jobs. The county can produce the gravel for about 48c a cubic yard, he said.

Another gravel area in the vicinity owned by the county is under lease to S. M. Johnson and it was decided to return this property to the county when the lease expires.

The Board awarded the publication of official proceedings to the Delta Reporter in Gladstone.

Present Spans Inadequate, Unsafe Delta County Bridge Problem Pointed Out

An acute problem of inadequate bridges in Delta county was brought before the County Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon by William J. Karas, road commission superintendent.

"Of the 68 bridges of spans from 20 to 840 feet in this county, 63 are of inadequate design and strength for the traffic that passes over them," Karas told the county supervisors.

Karas listed four classifications of loads that are in jeopardy any time they cross any of these 63 bridges, as follows:

- 1.—School buses loaded with 30 to 72 children.
- 2.—The county's own equipment.
- 3.—Wood products.
- 4.—Farm loads especially milk trucks.

Pointing out the county's responsibility in the matter, Karas stated:

To Combat Traffic Accidents Reduction Of Speed Essential

THE Michigan Legislature has been asked to appropriate one million dollars to combat traffic accidents in the state. Most of the money would go to increase the state police personnel for better traffic enforcement and for more effective driver licensing.

These measures are important, it is true, and the Legislature should not hesitate in providing the funds. The traffic accident problem is one of the most serious problems confronting the state and the nation.

It would be foolhardy, however, to believe that we can lick the traffic problem merely by voting an additional million dollars. The problem is too complex for that. Certainly one of the most important steps that must be taken is to curtail driving speed by voting definite speed limits for day and night driving. That will give the state police and other law enforcement officers in Michigan a potent weapon against the most serious cause of traffic accidents—speed.

The present Michigan law governing the speed of motorists is unrealistic and virtually impossible to enforce. The law prescribes no speed limit but asserts that a motorist may drive at any speed that may be safe considering the circumstances. The interpretation of that is limitless. As a result there are very few arrests for speeding on Michigan highways. But there were 1925 persons killed on highways in Michigan last year and 58,000 persons were injured.

Nearly 3,000,000 automobiles are registered in Michigan. Millions more drive on Michigan highways. Roads are choked with traffic, particularly in the summer months, and every motorist has a different conception of what constitutes a safe speed. Is it surprising that you cannot take a short drive on a Sunday afternoon without seeing cars piled up along the road?

The construction of the Straits of Mackinac bridge will attract many thousands of motorists to Michigan, further increasing the traffic jams on main highways.

We had better prepare now to meet the problem of traffic safety. An appropriation of an additional million dollars for more state police will be a start. But we'll need a lot more than that.

AUTHENTIC IKE
(Milwaukee Sentinel)

IT IS PART of the essential fair-mindedness of President Eisenhower that he does not oppose an issue without hard thought and good cause, and that often he offers along with his opposition some constructive proposals in keeping with the needs and spirit of America.

Such was his approach in his State of the Union speech to the question of the government's part in fighting disease and maintaining health.

HE WAS ABSOLUTELY OPPOSED, he said, to socialized medicine. So are we, and so we think are the great majority of Americans. Socialization of any profession, business or craft—or socialism in any other form—is repugnant to the American spirit.

But the President did not stop there. He went on to recognize that the government does have a responsibility in the field of health, and he proposed measures by which that responsibility could be met.

The government, he said, should encourage research against cancer and heart ailments, should help states in health programs, should encourage construction of diagnostic centers, rehabilitation centers and nursing homes.

Finally he called for a better working relationship between government and private initiative, and suggested that a limited government reinsurance service would permit private and nonprofit hospital and medical insurance companies, such as the Blue Cross, to offer broader protection to more families.

Here is an idea that we think is worth while looking into.

AND RE-READING the President's speech we find that he has extended the same concept into the vitally important area of the development and conservation of natural resources.

He said that in the next fiscal year the government will take part in 23 new projects that have been found to be economically sound and "with local sharing of cost wherever appropriate and feasible."

"The government," he said, "will continue to construct and operate economically sound flood control, power, irrigation and water supply projects wherever these projects are beyond the capacity of local initiative, public or private."

This is the President in his best middle-of-the-road thinking. This, to borrow the phrase of columnist Roscoe Drummond, is "the authentic Eisenhower."

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the difference between a bill and an act?

A—A bill is a legislative measure introduced in either the Senate or the House and proposing enactment of a law. When it is passed by either chamber the bill becomes an act of that branch of the Congress which passed it. However, the term "act" is commonly used to refer to a measure which has been passed by both houses and has become law.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It is now exactly one year since Dwight Eisenhower entered the White House, a year that has been one of great education and has seen great changes. Here is a thumbnail sketch of the Ike of today:

Ike And Business.—A year ago Eisenhower's economic theories sounded like a National Association of Manufacturers pamphlet. Now he has swung back halfway to the ideas expressed at the F Street Club right after the war which shocked Republican backers. "If men's lives were conscripted in wartime," Ike said at the F Street Club dinner, "why shouldn't profits be conscripted too?" Ike is more conservative than in those immediate prewar years, but less so than a year ago. Today he doesn't believe in a complete hands-off policy toward business. Nor does he believe that the doctrine of states' rights, so loudly proclaimed a year ago, constitutes a cure-all for everything.

Ike And Economy.—No longer does the President believe he can balance the budget. Nor does he view government-spending with anathema, as he did a year ago. He is willing to put his foot in government-spending water as an offset to recession worries. But he is a long way from taking the big spending plunge . . . and some of the economists around him recall that it takes a lot of spending to halt a business slide once it starts . . . Ike has changed his mind about creeping socialism and the Tennessee Valley; has already set aside $105,000,000 to start another "creeping socialism" project on the St. Lawrence, once the seaway project passes congress . . . the economy bloc in the Eisenhower administration, notably Secretary George Humphrey and Budget Director Joe Dodge, still remain Ike's close friends, but he doesn't follow their advice as much as formerly . . . sometimes the Chief Executive is unhappily torn between the two wings of his official family.

Men Around Ike.—A man who's had little experience in civilian government is almost completely dependent on the men around him. That's why it's significant that a new flank of advisers has moved in around the President . . . they aren't liberal by the Harry Hopkins standard, but they are far more progressive than the big-business golfing partners who used to move over from Sea Island to Augusta when Ike went to the "Georgia White House." . . . some wisecracks call them "hucksters" rather than liberals, and it's true that the new flank is passionately concerned with upping Ike's Gallup poll rating . . . however, they include Kevin McCann, president of The Defiance College; Charles Moore, up-and-coming former public-relations adviser to Ford Motors; Dr. Arthur Burns, a liberal head of the Council of Economic Advisers; C. D. Jackson, former publisher of Fortune magazine and the man who pushed Ike into the atomic-pool speech; and Robert Cutler, Boston banker who got into the White House through Justice Felix Frankfurter . . . this group is unanimously anti-McCarthy and unanimously opposed to the right-wing GOP. They are pulling Ike to get back to the middle-of-the-road course where he once had the support of many Democrats.

Ike And Congress.—Congressional relations is a field that greatly worries the President. At first he figured he could "good-will" members of congress, that White House luncheons, personal conversations would keep congressmen in line . . . now he is a wiser man. Nothing but a strong and successful policy, he has begun to realize, can keep congress with him . . . and he still hasn't learned this completely . . . when Senator Knowland kicked over the traces on funneling of defense orders to depressed areas; when Sam Rayburn reacted vigorously to criticism of Democratic spending, the President was hurt and bewildered. He still is a long way from understanding politics.

VEERING TOWARD EUROPE

Ike And Foreign Policy.—This is the field that Eisenhower knows best and where he is determined to chalk up notable achievements. Here he has been more consistent than in domestic policy, but sometimes so cautious that his own advisers get impatient . . . it took time to get him to make the $15,000,000 food gift to East Germany last spring, a move actually initiated by the State Department and which met with immediate success. Later, when an old-school drive was planned to help the East Germans, the summer White House in Denver misplaced Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's letter for three weeks and the clothes drive never did get under way . . . the President also hesitated three months before he made his speech proposing the pooling of atomic energy, and the speech was rewritten more than 20 times . . . on foreign affairs generally, Ike has switched from the China bloc's view that the U. S. A. must concentrate on the Far East. He is now veering more toward Europe.

The Tennessee man who was fined $50 for kissing his stenographer gives us a thought. If all girls would report, we could pay our national debt.

An Illinois woman sued her maid for stealing her husband. It just isn't safe to leave things around the house.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Mrs. Rudolph Schwartz, 112 South Ninth street, received a telephone call from far off Hawaii Tuesday. It was from her son, Corp. R. H. Schwartz, who is with the armed forces there.

Launching Of Atomic U-Boat Marks New Epic In Sea Power

The Nautilus: Facts and Figures

Official name: USS Nautilus (SSN-571).
History of name: Robert Fulton's experimental undersea craft in 1801; the ship in Jules Verne's "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea"; plus several U. S. subs, all of the same name.
Builder: Electric Boat Division, General Dynamics Corp.
Designer: U. S. Navy Bureau of Ships.

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent
GROTON, Conn. —(NEA)—Mamie Eisenhower is about to be the star of an event which history might record as more significant than any ceremony her husband ever performed.

She is going to smash a bottle of good domestic champagne against the nose of the first atomic powered submarine, the USS Nautilus, and send it grinding into the cold waters of the Thames River in Connecticut.

At this moment she renders practically every fighting ship on the world's seas obsolete. She effects a vital step in the long-range modernization of America's defenses around nuclear explosives and atomic power.

Probably more important, because this is the first use of atomic energy for ship propulsion, the First Lady's launching formally opens the door for vast civilian uses of this tremendous new source of power.

If you accept the fact that nuclear fission produces great heat, it's easy to understand the revolutionary power plant in the Nautilus. Fission heats distilled water kept under high pressure in stainless steel pipes an inch and one-half thick. This hot distilled water is used to turn the water in another adjoining system into steam.

Through a fairly simple arrangement of gears, the steam turns the sub's propellers.

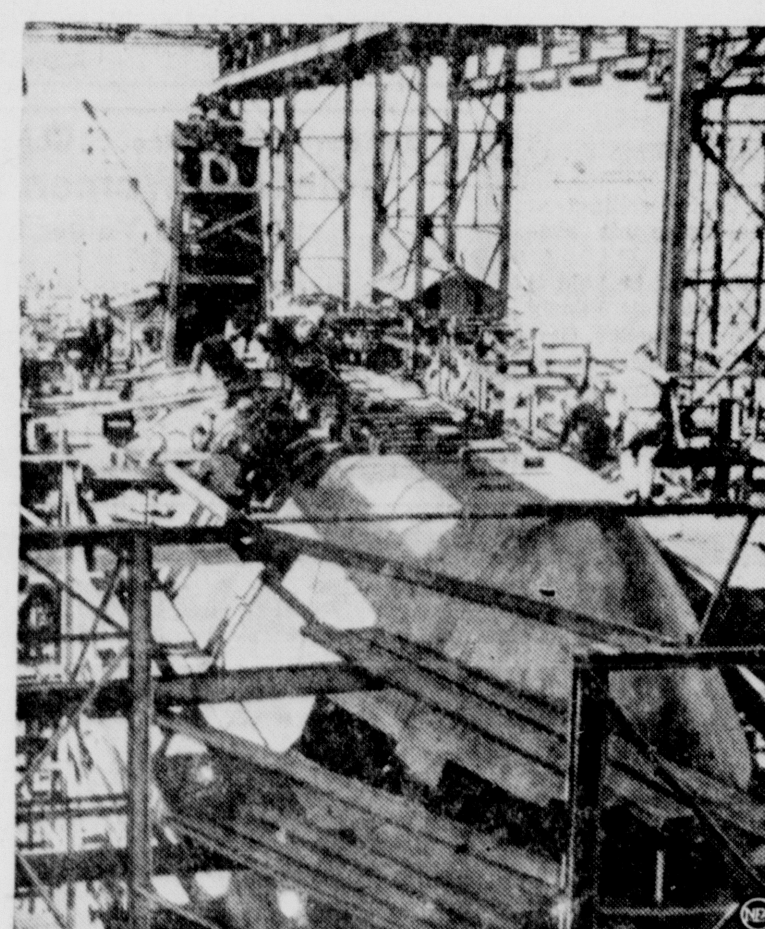

It's the best weapon yet created to combat the Russian sub fleet. The only weapon it is vulnerable to is another atomic sub.

The nuclear-powered submarine is known to be an excellent platform for the launching of guided missiles off enemy coastlines. It can land assault troops on enemy shores, act as a navigational picket ship and travel under the 40-foot thick polar ice cap from Alaska or Greenland to Russia.

Navy spokesmen flatly claim that a relatively small fleet of A-sub's can sweep the world's oceans free of all surface ships. Because a submarine has less friction moving underwater than vessels moving on the surface, it's conceivable that eventually all sea travel will be moved by atomic power under the surface.

One day recently, while working on the Nautilus were at lunch, a small group of newsmen

Builder of Reactor: Westinghouse Electric Corp.
Project chief: Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover.
Dimensions: 300 feet long, 28 feet in diameter. Weight: 2800 tons.
Speed: More than 30 mph.
Range: More than 25,000 miles.
Cost: Hull, $15 million; reactor, $40 million.

THE NAUTILUS UNDER WRAPS: Reporters got their first and last look before the atomic secrets were installed.

were given the first and last look permitted of the insides of the Nautilus—at least the last for many years. It was just prior to the start of putting in the secret controls and instruments.

Most impressive features are its general size and the crew-comfort facilities being installed. Quarters, passageways and work rooms seem to be roughly twice as large as those of the fleet-type subs. Forty-five men can watch a movie in the mess hall. That's about half of the total crew.

During the sub's design stage numerous sample assemblies of key parts of the boat were subjected to underwater explosion tests. This accounts for the great impression of strength and sturdiness of the masses of pipes, wire, electrical equipment and instruments. The Nautilus is built to stand more battle punishment than any sub ever built.

Although for the press tour huge canvases covered the mid-section which houses the reactor, the thickness of the steel shielding which protects the crew from radiation was visible.

Instead of a knife edge, the sub has a bulbous bow, the most efficient design for submerged travel. Overall it has clean, round lines with practically no protuberances to cause extra friction. Equipment which extends from the hull can also be retracted. The outer skin is extremely heavy sheet steel.

When Mamie Eisenhower's champagne bottle knocks the Nautilus into the water, there will still be a lot of work to be done on it before the sub is turned over to the Navy for first operational tests. How long that will be is a secret. So are a lot of other things about the Nautilus, its reactor and performance abilities.

The one thing that can't be kept secret, however, is the revolution the Nautilus creates in sea warfare and the hope that it holds for more and more everyday practical use of atomic energy.

(Tomorrow: The pioneer of atomic seapower.)

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE HARDY ONES.—The English sparrows, those delinquents of the bird world, made out quite well during the recent below-zero cold blast. And those that lived in the city appeared to do the best of all. The cocky little import that is progressively following man around the world from his native Europe, is indeed a creature that looks to have been brought up on the wrong side of the tracks.

In winter his already drab feathers become more smudged and sooty from living too close to the comforts of civilization. He has all of the aspects of a Dead End kid out to become Denis the Menace of his neighborhood.

About the only birds that will associate with this renegade from bird-dom are the raucous starlings and the sycophantic pigeons. For the English or house sparrows have displaced their American cousins almost everywhere in the towns.

THEY'RE GENIUSES.—From the villages of the Old World, the house sparrow learned not only how to live with man but also how to take advantage of him.

In Escanaba during the cold snap, the sparrows sheltered in crannies of buildings which afforded them protection—and they even found a steam-heated apartment in alleys on each side of Ludington Street where the central steam heating mains ran through man holes.

Here the rising heat, vaporizing as it struck the zero air, provided warmth for the sparrows clustering around the man hole covers and on the ground that had thawed free of snow. No doubt these "hot spots" in the alleys have saved the lives of countless sparrows in the last few winters.

Sometimes the pigeons joined the sparrows on the ground, but not often; and the starlings never relinquished their point of vantage on the buildings to risk the danger of traffic, cats, dogs, and boys with snowballs.

THE DIFFERENCE.—There is something of tough independence about the hardy little foreigner that arouses admiration.

He associates with man, but only for the sake of the sparrow's convenience. He has no liking or respect for humankind.

A few winters ago we found a sparrow half-frozen on the back porch, huddled close against the storm door. He was discovered when the door was opened to bring in the milk. The sparrow was brought in, too, but unlike the milk his disposition was anything but bland.

As soon as he had warmed up enough to be active he flew madly about the house, seeking escape. When I caught him, to put him out, he took a piece of my finger in his cone-shaped bill—and twisted, hard. It hurt, which he intended it should, as was evident by the glitter in his mean little eye.

A chickadee, however, that had been picked up from the street after being stunned when it flew into the side of the car, was all politeness when brought into the house. It would perch on our finger with its twiggy little feet or ride around the room on our shoulder.

OF MANY CHILDREN.—The house sparrow was introduced into the United States about 100 years ago and today will be found in every section of the country.

Making its nest in almost any suitable place, the sparrow rears three or four broods of young in a season. Often these nests are in the eaves troughs or drains, which plugs them and makes the householder angry.

Noisy and quarrelsome, the house sparrow in one summer will raise from 18 to 28 equally ill-tempered young. The way they multiply is a caution—a caution that man heeded too late.

Some states and cities offered bounties for the destruction of English sparrows. But the result was so unsatisfactory, and so many useful native sparrows were killed that the bounty program has long been abandoned.

THE FUTURE.—Whether the English sparrow is useful is debatable. Some authorities say they destroy the seeds of troublesome plants.

But there is one certainty: The fighting little feathered lightweight will not be easily discouraged. He may never be a thing of beauty, but he is durable.

While less adaptable birds are freezing while they huddle in a tree in the country, the house sparrow is seated in his steam-heated alley, growing more grimy and numerous by the year.

Yet his discordant chirp, constant activity and pugnacious outlook endear him to those who admire courage—even among the great unwashed.

It was agreed on the lighter side at the barbershop that with our young men having to spend two years in the armed forces, the country will probably face a shortage of good pool players for years to come.

T' e Doctor Says...

Glaucoma Is Eye Disease Needina Prompt Treatment

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. S. writes that she has glaucoma, according to her doctors, and wants to know what may happen if it is not treated since she has no pain and therefore hesitates to have anything done.

Apparently, from what little Mrs. S. says her glaucoma is in an early stage, but she should certainly not allow the absence of pain or other symptoms to interfere with the treatment which she needs. If she ignores it, she may be courting disaster.

Glaucoma is one of the most serious diseases of the eyes, and is believed to be responsible for the blindness of at least 20,000 persons in the United States alone, and the loss of vision in one eye of perhaps 150,000 more.

But this is not the whole story because most of this could have been prevented if diagnosis had been made early and treatment started promptly. There are medicines available which are extremely effective in most cases of acute glaucoma. Sometimes an operation is necessary to preserve sight. All make new channels for the drainage of the eye fluids.

An acute attack usually begins with severe pain in one eye, slight swelling of the eyelids with watering of the eye and infection of the eyeball which looks like a general inflammation of the eye.

EARLY TREATMENT BEST

There is, of course, considerable loss of vision and an increased hardness of the eyeball can usually be easily felt. The pain is severe and often is felt all through the head. The hardness of the eye is caused by blockage of the flow of fluids within the eye so that liquid accumulates in the eyeball.

Because of its great danger to sight, glaucoma is a disease which must not be neglected. Each patient must have the special care which his or her particular case demands. Failure to follow advice or to continue conscientiously with the medicines or other treatments recommended may result in blindness. All are agreed that early diagnosis and prompt treatment are of the most importance.

Faces All Look Alike To Him, Says Caricaturist Joe Kaliff

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK —(NEA)— Joe Kaliff, as it is said on Broadway, was giving them the once-over-lightly. Each girl in her turn—hurry, lagging, loping, mincing, striding, meandering—came under the Kaliff scrutiny.

"Nothing," he said. "Absolutely nothing." It's getting to be that a real face comes along once in a million these days. And as soon as she opens her mouth she tells you she wants to look like Marilyn Monroe or some other vacant Hollywood babe."

This was a considered, professional opinion from Joseph Kaliff, president of the Caricaturists Society of America—a group of deft experts who earn a good living in the revival of an ancient art form.

The object of caricature: to capture facial expressions with as few pencil lines as possible. A god caricaturist can set his impressions on paper to the count of two faces per minute. And you'll find more and more of them doing it at conventions, meetings, conferences, colleges and parties across the nation."

"It's a snap," Joe said. "Once you realize that faces follow fashion trends you get to work automatically. It's that one-in-a-million, warm, honest, intelligent face that shakes you and makes you work a little harder to capture it."

The remaining 999,999, he said, are more than happy to follow face fads. He blamed the movies for setting the face and the beauty shops and schools for following it.

"We've been taught," he said, "to value a blank look and a straight nose over a kindly expression. It's a vicious circle of mirrors all reflecting the same thing."

The look-alike business was very profitable to many companies, Joe said. Cosmetics and tweezer manufacturers were called in. Jewelers and hair-stylists were needed. The false-eyelash trade was probably rushed to death. All the girl needed, he said, was a face and the will to diet.

"If I wanted to make a million dollars," Joe sighed, "I'd get out of this business and start manufacturing identification necklaces. American women are going to need them."

In an effort to turn the deadpan tide, the Caricaturists Society each year draws up a list of the crowd. These are the faces, the experts say, that have helped their owners to fame.

High on this year's list: President Eisenhower; New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel; actor Clark Gable. Among the women: UN's Madame V. L. Pandit; actress Tallulah Bankhead; and comedienne Lucille Ball.

"The personality," a Society statement claims, "comes through." Back on Broadway, Joe was going over them lightly again. His eyes went past a movie house, a shooting gallery, a restaurant. He said suddenly:

"See? On the corner?" A dark-haired girl, waiting for the traffic light to change, was reading an advertisement. Nothing spectacular. Just a girl reading with disbelief on her face.

"Ah," said Joe in his professional voice, "a raised eyebrow. Not a shout or a shrug or a pointing finger. But a quiet, subtle, expressive raised eyebrow."

He took his pencil and sketchpad from his pocket and hurried toward the corner.

"That," Joe Kaliff said, "is the millionth face."

MILLIONTH FACE looks like this to caricaturist Joe Kaliff, disappointed by look-alikes.

HERE'S SAME GAL if she followed face fads. Joe has also added identification necklace.

Suit Against A&P Food Chain Settled

WASHINGTON — A compromise settlement of the government's anti-trust suit against the A&P food chain was announced by Atty. Gen. Brownell. The big retail chain will not be broken up.

The attorney general said a consent judgment, accepted by both the Justice Department and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., was entered Tuesday in the Federal District Court in New York City before Judge Edward A. Conger.

Brownell said the decree provides that A&P must move at once to dissolve Atlantic Commission Co., its produce buying subsidiary. The subsidiary had been accused of functioning in an inconsistent dual role as a direct buyer for A&P's 6,000 retail stores scattered through 40 states, while at the same time acting as a selling agent for the A&P suppliers in sales to the big chain's retail competitors.

The civil anti-trust action in New York was brought in September, 1949 by Atty. Gen. CMGrath after A&P had been convicted of criminal anti-trust law violations in a trial held at Danville, Ill., and had paid $175,000 in fines.

The McGrath suit specifically asked the New York court for an order requiring that the A&P retail chain be broken down into seven separate and independently owned retail food chains which would compete with each other.

The death was reported to authorities as a suicide and State Police, sheriff's officers and Dr. Otto S. Hult, coroner of Gladstone, were conducting an investigation this afternoon.

Mr. McFadden was believed to have died about 10:30 a. m. and his body was found at noon by his wife.

Born in Kansas, Mr. McFadden came to Delta County and to Cornell about 35 years ago.

Chanting POWs Leave Panmunjom, March To Freedom

and South Korean prisoners who chose to stay with the Communists remained in their neutral zone compound. The Indians planned to turn them back to the Communists, but the Reds refused to take them.

In Taipei, Chinese Nationalists were jubilant after hearing the release had begun. Formosa's biggest celebration in years is planned for the day the POWs begin landing.

Nationalist sources said the prisoners will be held in special villages for re-education and then will be given a choice of civilian life or joining Nationalist military forces.

U. S. Army Secretary Robert Stevens, here for the prisoner transfer, said any of the 21 Americans who asks for repatriation before midnight Friday would be welcome to return home.

Under Allied interpretation of the Korean armistice all unrepatriated war prisoners are to be freed as civilians at midnight Friday. The Communists wanted them kept in custody until a peace conference decides their future.

Civilians By Saturday
The first of 14,321 anti-Communist Chinese prisoners returned to the U. N. Wednesday were sped to Ascom City by truck. Then they boarded U. S. landings ships in nearby Inchon harbor and were scheduled to sail for Formosa early Thursday.

Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. Far East commander, said they will become civilians at midnight Friday.

Trainloads of North Korean prisoners moved southward toward the ROK army post at Kunsan where they will be held until midnight Friday.

The Chinese and North Koreans set some prison enclosures afire before leaving. They sang and cheered as they crossed the line. They carried anti-Communist banners and Republic of Korea and Nationalist Chinese flags.

One group was headed by a drum and bugle corps of about 30 Chinese prisoners. They played drums and bugles painstakingly fashioned from beer cans and scraps of metal.

Plans Set For Public Health Meeting Here

Program plans are set for the conference for public officials on public health to be held in Escanaba, February 1-2.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health department and chairman of the planning committee, has announced that the program will be divided into three parts: first, a review of current health department services; second, a study of present problems and needs; third, a determination of the services required to meet the needs of the immediate future.

The first session, scheduled to get underway at noon, February 1, at the Sherman Hotel will be under the chairmanship of Dr. R. A. Tearnan, Director of the Alger-Schoolcraft health department.

Name Resource People

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, will discuss the contributions to public health of previous conferences of this type. The political environment of public health, particularly in the Upper Peninsula counties represented at the meeting, will be presented with Arthur W. Bromage, Professor of Political Science at the University of Michigan acting as a resource person.

Public health programs and services will be reviewed with Dr. J. K. Altland, Director, Division of Local Health Administration, Michigan Department of Health, as chairman. Resource people will be Dr. C. A. E. Lund, Director of the Copper Country District Health Department; Dr. John Cowan, Director, Division of TB and Adult Health, Michigan Department of Health; Dr. Goldie Corneliuson, Chief, Section of Maternal and Child Health, Michigan Department of Health; Dr. Donald Cowan, Director, Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac Health Department; Dr. Tearnan and Dr. Harrison.

The second session, devoted to "problems and needs" will be under the chairmanship of Charles Folio, University of Michigan Extension Service, Escanaba. County boards of supervisors will be represented by Albert Kipfer, Chairman, Delta-Menominee Board of Health; the health officers will be represented by Dr. Harrison; industry by Walter Gries, Superintendent, Welfare Department, Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company; the tuberculosis sanatorium commission by Herbert Kellow of South Range, member of the commission; the Michigan Department of Health by John McKevitt, Director of the Division of Administrative Services, and lay groups will be represented by Frank Jones, a hardware store owner, who fined the violators a total of $100. Attorneys donated their time to plead their clients' cases — but needless to say the prosecution won all of them.

Where Do We Go?

Highlight of the dinner meeting to be held at 6:30 in the Delta Hotel will be an address by Dr. Gaylord Anderson, Dean of the School of Public Health, University of Minnesota on "Changing Concepts of Public Health and Its Relationship to Personnel Needs."

The final session on the morning of February 2 in the Delta Hotel will revolve around the general topic of "Where Do We Go From Here?" with Charles Folio as moderator. County boards of supervisors will be represented by Elson Carberry, mayor of Munising; health officers by Dr. Tearnan; Sanatorium superintendents by Dr. John Towey, medical director, Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powere; industry by James T. Jones, Marble Arms Corporation, Gladstone; school administrators by George Gilbert, formerly with the Department of Public Instruction, Gwin and the Michigan Department of Health by Dr. Altland.

Members of county boards of supervisors, city and village officials and officers, public school administrators and county and district health department personnel from Alger, Schoolcraft, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson and Iron Counties have been invited to the conference; also, the health officers and staffs of the Copper Country District Health Department and the Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac health department and the Board of Supervisors and school administrators of Marquette county and Marquette city officials.

Key Witness Denies Any Knowledge Of Reuther Shooting

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Donald Ritchie, the elusive Reuther case tipster, today denied any knowledge of or connection with the 1948 shooting of the UAW-CIO leader.

Ritchie, in jail here awaiting extradition proceedings, handed the statement to newsmen.

It was a complete denial of everything Ritchie previously told Michigan authorities about the shooting of the CIO president. It was these first statements which led Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald O'Brien to issue warrants for attempted murder for Ritchie's uncle, Clarence Jacobs, Carl Lombardo, Sam Perrone and Pete Lombardo.

"It's not a surprise," O'Brien said of the statement, "after all the man's a defendant in the case."

"I plan to proceed with the extradition against Ritchie Thursday."

Jacobs and Renda were arrested on the warrants. Perrone is still sought and Lombardo is in prison in Indiana.

Ritchie's statement said: "When the complete facts are known it will become apparent that the methods adopted to obtain the statements will explain their existence."

This apparently was a reference to the $5,000 which Ritchie received from the UAW-CIO after he had made what he claimed was a "confession" to O'Brien. The arrangement at that time was that Ritchie would receive the $5,000 if he gave information which would enable authorities to issue warrants for the men who tried to kill Reuther.

Ritchie originally claimed the shooting was plotted by Perrone and that Renda paid off the carload of would-be assassins. Ritchie said that Lombardo drove the car, that he went along as a spare driver and that the actual shotgun blast was fired by Jacobs.

Ritchie was captured here last week after he had eluded protective custody of Detroit Police. He refused to waive extradition to Michigan.

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Two 17-year-olds, John Moore and George Sarris, were held for questioning in connection with $1,500 in local robberies.

Police said they found near that amount of stolen property in possession of the pair.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were comfortably ahead today in an active market. It was the sixth rise in seven sessions.

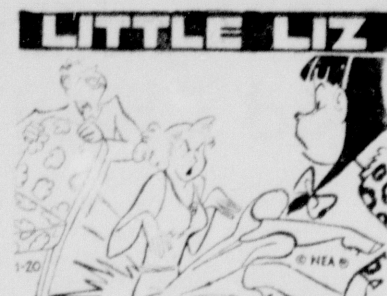

Railroads were in front. The gains extended to around a point in several areas. As a general rule, losses were small.

The market maintained a pace of trading well past the two million mark for the second time this year. Tuesday's total was 1,840,000 shares.

Stepping ahead with the railroads were the oils, steels, distillers, and radio - televisions.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Illinois Central, Texas Co., Anaconda Copper, Du Pont, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Studebaker, and Radio Corp.

Lower were Chrysler, Goodrich, and Douglas Aircraft.

'Slaves' Donate To Polio Fund

By TED MCKENNA

VISTA, Calif. (AP) — More than 125 businessmen, public officials and civic leaders were "slaves" here Tuesday in a unique fund-raising project for the March of Dimes.

The "Slave Day" was the second phase of the polio fund-raising drive in this northern San Diego County community. Last month the men were auctioned off as "slaves" by Howard D. Cunnemon, newspaper distributor. That project raised more than $1,200. Another $1,000 was collected Tuesday.

Businessmen offered to work in other stores from 1 to 5 p. m. A percentage of their sales went to the polio fund.

"Slaves" who didn't show up were captured by a "posse" and led by "Sheriff" Graehme Smith, who normally is pastor of the Vista Community Church.

They were taken before "Judge" Frank Jones, a hardware store owner, who fined the violators a total of $100. Attorneys donated their time to plead their clients' cases — but needless to say the prosecution won all of them.

Leon Bone, Vista's regular judge in justice court, meanwhile was working behind a counter in a coffee shop.

Other businessmen and civic leaders shined shoes, waited on tables in cafes and collect newspaper subscriptions, with part of the money going to the March of Dimes.

City To Act On Insurance Bids

Escanaba City Council will at its meeting to be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in City Hall act on the awarding of bids for fire insurance coverage on all city buildings. Mayor Robert E. LeMire will preside.

In preparation for its action on fire insurance bids the City Council will meet tonight in informal session at City Hall to review valuation of city buildings to be insured. Council is also expected to hear an analysis report from the fire city controller on the two fire insurance bids opened Monday.

This is the first year City Council has authorized advertising for bids for fire insurance. In previous years the insurance was purchased by agreement with the Escanaba Insurance Agents' Association.

Two bids were received, one from Employers' Mutuals and the other from the Insurance Agents' Association.

At its Thursday night meeting the Council will open bids for poles for electrical department construction work; and will give first reading to an ordinance for adopting a street and alley plat located immediately west of the Goulais Addition.

Lake Michigan Plunge Fatal To Retired Australian Teacher

CHICAGO (AP) — Miss Winifred Bullock, 66, who fought rescuers after she jumped into icy Lake Michigan Tuesday, died later of shock at St. Francis Hospital in suburban Evanston.

She was a retired school teacher from Sydney, Australia. Her visa for a visit with her brother, Charles Bullock, in Evanston, had expired. Bullock said his sister did not want to leave Evanston.

Police, firemen and coast guardsmen tried for a half hour to rescue the woman while a large crowd watched from the shore near the south end of Evanston's Main street beach.

IRON MOUNTAIN — Difficulties between the Kingsford Chemical Company and City of Kingsford over taxes were climaxed yesterday by a lawsuit in which the company seeks to force the city to sharply lower valuation of the company's plant and return $36,515 in taxes and penalties paid under protest. Notice of the suit, filed in Dickinson County circuit court, was served on the city yesterday, and the city council last night referred the matter to City Attorney Ernest W. Brown who will defend the city in the action. Brown has 15 days to answer the bill of complaint. The company's action named both the city and Treasurer Desley Davis as defendants. Representing the company are Paul Rahm, Iron Mountain attorney, and the Detroit legal firm of Dickinson, Wright, Davis, McKean and Cudlip.

MENOMINEE — Kermit Kleinke, Marinette commercial fisherman and former Marinette alderman, last night was elected president of the M & M Fishermen's Co-Operative at a meeting in Meissner's Hall. The co-op, reactivated last week after a 10-year lapse in an effort to better marketing of Green Bay fish, chiefly smelt and perch, has 94 stockholders to date, with 83 being added last night. Other officers elected last night were: Wendell Beaucouk, M-35, vice president; and Joseph Zimminski, Ingallston, secretary-treasurer.

MARINETTE — Robert C. Hood, president of the Ansl Chemical Company, has been selected as a member of a four-man U. S. Government mission to Austria. He will leave New York by plane Jan. 20 for Paris and his first overseas meeting with members of the American Productivity Mission—a NATO group. This mission will be active in training and development work. The four men will work with top government, industry and labor leaders. Included in the mission with Hood are Richard Beckhard, a New York management consultant, Elbert Burri, director of training for the

Killer Of Baby Given 25 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — A 32-year-old father who admitted beating and stomping to death his 2-year-old son was sentenced Tuesday to 25 years in prison for murder.

James Dodd, faced with the state's demand for the death penalty if he stood jury trial, entered a plea of guilty in Criminal Court. Judge Matthew D. Hartigan passed the sentence.

At a coroner's inquest in the death of James Jr. Sept. 26, 1953, Dodd had testified, "I tossed him six feet to the bed, but missed. Then I stepped on him four or five times with my heels. I must have gone completely crazy because I did love him."

Dodd's wife, Ruby, 23, told the coroner's jury her husband "didn't like Jimmy," and had told her the boy was "the milkman," and had made repeated threats to kill him. The couple has a 3-year-old daughter.

Your Income Tax Primer

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the tenth of 13 articles in NEA's 13th annual Income Tax Primer, prepared by a top-notch Washington tax authority and designed for use with the official tax rule pamphlet.

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
NEA Income Tax Expert

Every dollar of deductions you can claim will save you at least 22 cents and even more if your income is over $4000. Don't overlook any.

That's why you should read through this and the previous article carefully. They will remind you of deductions that you might otherwise overlook. And when you finish this article, you will know whether your deductions exceed 10 per cent of your income and should be itemized on page 3 of Form 1040.

Property losses caused either by a casualty or theft can be shown on page 3 even though the property is for your own personal use. Casualty losses include damage from fire, storm, flood, lightning, hurricane and other sudden, unexpected or unusual causes. Thus damages from a bursting boiler or frozen pipes would be a casualty loss.

You can deduct damages to your car caused by a collision unless the collision was due to your willful negligence. Faulty driving is not classed as willful negligence but driving while intoxicated is.

The amount of the loss or damage to be deducted should be computed in accordance with the official instructions on page 11.

If you have difficulty determining the fair market value of the property both before and just after the loss, as required by the instructions, remember that such things as repair bills, insurance adjuster's estimates, and police or fire department records are good evidence of the amount of your loss.

A loss from a casualty or from theft should be deducted in the year the loss occurred. If you are covered by insurance, the loss must be reduced by any recovery.

If your casualty loss in 1953 exceeds your 1953 income, you can deduct the excess from your 1952 income and get a refund. Do this by filing a claim on a form you can get from your District Director of Internal Revenue.

Medical and dental deductions are figured exactly the same as last year. That means if either husband or wife had the 65th birthday on or before Jan. 1, 1954, then they can deduct all expenses for their own medical care, provided they choose to itemize deductions on page 3 of Form 1040.

DON'T OVERLOOK THESE REDUCTIONS.

If either husband or wife spends money on medical care of a dependent as defined below, only that part of the expense that exceeds five per cent of their adjusted gross income (Item 4, page 1) can be included in the deduction.

If neither husband nor wife was 65 or over in 1953, then only those expenses in excess of five per cent of their adjusted gross income can be deducted.

Medical and dental expenses include any such amount you paid in 1953 for yourself, your wife, all dependents claimed on your return, and also your child to whose support you contributed more than half but who was not a legal dependent because he earned more than $600.

Payments that can be considered deductible medical or dental expenses are listed on page 11 of the official instructions. Note that costs of travel necessary to get medical care are deductible while costs of travel ordered or suggested for a rest or change are not. If your minor child is ill and it is necessary to travel to get medical care, you can deduct the expense of transportation, meals and lodging for your child and yourself, if you go along.

There is a maximum limitation on the medical deduction which varies according to the number of dependents and type of return you file. The limitations are explained on page 11 of the instructions.

The last action schedule on page 3 is a catch-all for deductions not taken elsewhere. Typical examples of items that can be deducted in the "Miscellaneous" schedule are:

1. Expenses of earning your salary or wage. Any ordinary and necessary expenses in your line of work are deductible. This includes dues, initiation fees and assessments to labor unions, and professional societies; entertainment of customers to promote specific deals and not just for general good will; uniforms, work clothes, and costumes required in your work and that do not replace your own ordinary clothing; safety equipment, tools and supplies necessary and customary in your work.

It also includes expenses of travel for your employer when you did not stay away overnight. Do not deduct on page 3 any overnight travel expenses for which you were reimbursed by your employer. These should be deducted in item 2, page 1 of the return as explained in the 4th article.

2. Alimony paid regularly, but not necessarily at fixed intervals under court order. You cannot deduct any sums specifically designated for the support of your minor children.

3. Costs of management, maintenance and conservation of property held for investment. This includes cost of a safety deposit box for your securities.

4. Fees or expenses incurred in preparing your income tax return. Now you are ready to fill out your tax return in accordance with tomorrow's article.

Tax Primer Q. &amp; A.

Q. I gave three pints of blood worth around $30 to $40 to the Red Cross in 1953. Can I deduct the value of the donated blood?

A. The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that such donations are not deductible.

Q. Under a divorce decree, I have been ordered to pay my ex-wife $100 a month, $75 of which is for the support of our child living with her. How much can I deduct as alimony?

A. Assuming you pay the $100 per month, you can only deduct $25 of it since the remainder is specifically designated for the support of your child.

Q. While swimming I lost my diamond ring worth $420. Can I deduct this as a casualty loss?

A. No. Losses due to mislaying or losing an article are not deductible.

Starling Chaser Very Effective

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State University has a starling chaser. It cleared the nearby community of Millheim (pop. 1,000) of 15,000 starlings and certain areas of State College before the birds departed on their annual migration.

The birds moved out when treatment was applied in August, and didn't return. The treatment consists of the amplification of a very special noise.

"The noise," Dr. Herbert W. Frings explains, "will not arouse the robins, grackles, nor cowbirds, but we feel we can develop a treatment for them also."

Snake Makes Pet

For Young Woman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Mary Lou Hull, 18, has a pet blacksnake named George. She says she would rather have the 5-foot George wrap himself around her arms than hold a kitten or a puppy. Mary Lou has been interested in reptiles since she was old enough to hold a garter snake. A clerk-typist by day, Mary Lou studies herpetology in her spare time.

Her father, James T. Hull, says, "The whole family is enthusiastic about George." Her mother, a little less enthusiastically, says she tolerates George around the house but "draws the line" at pet alligators.

SHORT "CHANGED"

February is the only month that is shorter than the lunar cycle. For this reason, about every six years the month has only three of the four phases. This means, of course, that sometimes February is without a new moon, one of the two quarter phases, or a full moon.

Pastels Spark Winter Outfit

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

No season drags quite so much as winter. By January and February, women feel as if they had been wearing the same old things for years.

One way to perk up a weary wardrobe is to retire your dark accessories in favor of pastel ones.

But if you are past 40, don't make the mistake so many women do of changing their hats and not changing their make-up.

Best Make-Up
When wearing pastel pink or blue near her face, the gray-haired woman with fair skin should wear a pinkish face powder over a base that matches her skin tone. Her lipstick should also be a clear pink.

If her skin is dusky, she should wear a light creamy-toned face powder over a base that matches her skin tone. A mauve lipstick should be her choice.

Pastels in green or blue should be worn by the red-haired woman whose skin is pink-toned. With either of these shades, she should wear an ivory face powder over skin-toned base. Rust set rouge and lipstick are right for her.

The woman who has black hair and fair skin would look well in pastel shades of yellow, pink and green. Ivory face powder and a ripe red lipstick would best complement her color scheme.

Avoid Yellow
The silver-blond whose skin is pale and creamy looks well in all pastel shades except yellow. She should wear a rosy cream face powder and a clear red lipstick.

For the woman with red-gold hair and brilliant skin, pastel green and blue are best. A light creamy powder and a red lipstick with brownish orange tone should be her choice.

The woman who has the typical American brown hair and fair skin, can wear both pastel pink and blue. Her powder should be a light creamy shade and she should wear a true red lipstick.

Want to flute a cucumber or a banana to make a vegetable or fruit salad look pretty? Just draw a sharp-tined fork lengthwise down the cucumber or banana, then cut crosswise in thin round slices. If the cucumbers are to be used as a garnish, sprinkle them with minced parsley. If the banana slices are prepared in advance, cover them with citrus juice to keep them a good color.

Chatham

Church Meeting

Lutheran Church held at the church Sunday morning, Jan. 17, the following parish officers were elected: chairman, Carl Johnson; vice chairman, John Samanen; secretary, Waino Anttila; treasurer, Mary Luoma; secretary to the treasurer, Mrs. Onen Posio; new members to the Board of Trustees, Ed Luoma, Nick Hautamaki; Sunday School superintendent, Mrs. George Levis; assistant, Mrs. Harry Johnson; organist, Mrs. Carl Zeno; janitor, Waino Anttila.

A committee composed of the following members was appointed to work on plans for it: Carl Johnson, George Levis, Harry Johnson, Waino Anttila, Ed Luoma. The following committee was appointed to approach the Mission Board in regard to soliciting funds for the building: John Samanen, Mrs. Pantti, Mrs. George Levis, Harry Johnson.

Credit Union Annual Meeting

When choosing a patterned curtain fabric, make sure that the size of the design in the curtains is in scale with the size of the room and its furnishings. For example, small designs in light colors are attractive in small rooms with small windows; but they look out of keeping in a large room with massive windows.

American Rose Society Office Now In Columbus

The advent of 1954 marks a milestone for the American Rose Society. The headquarters has now moved to offices in the Administration Building of the Park of Roses in Columbus, Ohio.

After a 20 year period of growth and residence in Harrisburg, Pa., the move has been heralded as the beginning of a new period of growth in membership, influence and service.

It would be difficult to imagine a better setting for the offices of the society. Although the Park of Roses is but one year old, there are already 25,000 of the planned 55,000 roses growing in the well designed garden. Planting of the parking areas and other surrounding regions is even now going on. This spring the large collection of species and old-fashioned roses, donated by Roy Shepherd, rose historian and breeder of Medina, Ohio, will be planted in the park.

The American Rose Society is making available to the public visiting the Park of Roses its rose library of several hundred volumes pertaining to rose culture, history and uses.

James P. Gurney, executive secretary of the Rose Society, has asked that all interested persons please note the new address: 4048 Roselace Place, Columbus 14, Ohio. This applies to the American Rose Society, the American Rose Magazine and the American Rose annual. He added that service will be speeded greatly if all mail is sent directly to the new address.

It is hoped that many members and friends of the Society will visit the new offices, especially during the blooming season, so that they may enjoy the Park of Roses as well.

Hermansville Post Presented Bell In Membership Drive

HERMANVILLE — Harold Thornton of Ontonagon, Fifth Zone chairman of the American Legion, Department of Michigan, presented a gold gavel bell to the Leo Fioriano Post 340 in recognition for outstanding membership efforts in being one of the first five posts in Michigan to achieve their quota for 1954.

The post membership is 32. Edward Plunger and Gerald Wellings were introduced as new members at the meeting.

In accepting the gavel bell, Commander Julius Haelterman challenged membership and post workers to hit the 100 mark. Haelterman also commended those who have cooperated and worked to make the past year one of the most successful in local legion history.

Thornton, spoke to the group on the Legion program for this year and praised the post for its work in membership.

The Legion will sponsor a card party at the Hermansville Club House Saturday evening, Jan. 30 for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Donald Raiche and Clarence Ryberg were named co-chairmen for the event.

Enlistment Of Women For Army And Air Force Sought

First Lt. Viola L. Moeckel, WAC and WAF procurement officer for the state of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, has arrived in Escanaba to interview applicants for women to serve in the U. S. Army and Air Force. She also plans to establish a WAC-WAF Information Council.

Three former service women in this area have been contacted in regard to serving on this council. The actual purpose of the council is for the members to act as auxiliary recruiters and also as representatives of the WAC's and WAF's. These women will answer any questions concerning these two branches of service that an applicant would ask.

"People feel that since there is no longer a war, there is no need for women in the service. But there is a need! The rate of our service women declines through marriage and those women who are being discharged. These women must be replaced to maintain the strength of the corps," Lt. Moeckel stated.

Requirements Listed
Women between the ages of 18 to 34, single, no dependents, good physical condition, good moral character, a high school graduate or its equivalent and a U. S. citizen or declaring intent to become one, may become applicants for the WAC's or WAF's.

A very selective acceptance program is used by the military service for the WAC's and WAF's. One out of every five girls who apply is accepted. A girl is investigated very thoroughly. Her basic qualities are considered. She is given a mental test, a thorough physical examination and a personal interview. The young woman's average must be above average to make her eligible for service.

After passing the examinations and preliminaries at the local recruiting office, an enlistee must go to Milwaukee for final processing and the actual enlistment, which for the WAC is two years and the WAF is three years. Upon enlisting at Milwaukee, the young women are sent to basic training centers for nine weeks. WAF's are sent to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex., and the WAC's go to Ft. Lee, Va. The WAC's presently are establishing a new training center at Ft. McClellan, Ala. This base, which will be the permanent WAC training center, will open sometime in April.

Get Aptitude Tests
During their basic training, the girl is indoctrinated into the military through a series of academic courses and practical training. They also receive many hours of drill and several hours of physical training during this period.

A series of aptitude tests are given to each girl during these first weeks to determine the field in which she is best qualified.

These tests also determine whether or not she needs further training. Some young women may go right into their work while others are sent to school.

The service now has many career fields. Over 400 different jobs are performed by women in these two branches of the service. These fields include personnel management, business administration, public information, information and education, food service, and in the Air Force, they have a special field with jobs much as the control tower and weather observer.

May Continue Education
Any girl wishing to continue her education while in uniform may do so by enrolling in courses at a nearby college or university or through correspondence courses. WAC's and WAF's receive the same benefits as the nation's servicemen. They are granted G. I. Bill of Rights benefits, dental care, medical care, life insurance and many others.

A world opportunity of travel is at a WAC's or WAF's fingertips. They are stationed not only throughout the U. S. but also in the Far East, France, Germany, England, Alaska, Hawaii, Bermuda and the many other countries.

Young women may marry at any time after entering the service, but they must agree to serving at least one year of duty after their marriage. A married woman may choose to leave the service or stay in; it is her decision. After 20 years in the service, a woman is eligible for retirement if the age factor is satisfactory. If the service feels that a person is too young to retire, they may retain that person in the service.

Lt. Moeckel, who has served 10 years in the WAC's, and enlisting as a private, was commissioned in 1949. She has been stationed many places but as yet has not been overseas.

"For a person who has no responsibility for preventing them from enlisting in the service, it is one of the finest things a young woman can do," Lt. Moeckel emphasized. "No person could buy the education which one can receive in the service. The experience gained is valuable, and if a girl had the opportunity to enlist and did not, she could never realize the many benefits that she passed up."

Ann Arbor Atom Project Praised

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Major progress in acquiring facilities for learning the mysterious secrets of the atom were reported by Dean Ralph Sawyer, director of the University of Michigan's vast Phoenix Memorial Project.

Dr. Sawyer, dean of the graduate school and technical director of the Bikini atom bomb tests, said the five-year old project to explore peacetime uses of nuclear energy had completed "its greatest year" in 1953.

The University studies, covering 55 separate projects, range from the effects of radiation on cancer to means of preserving foods by radioactivity.

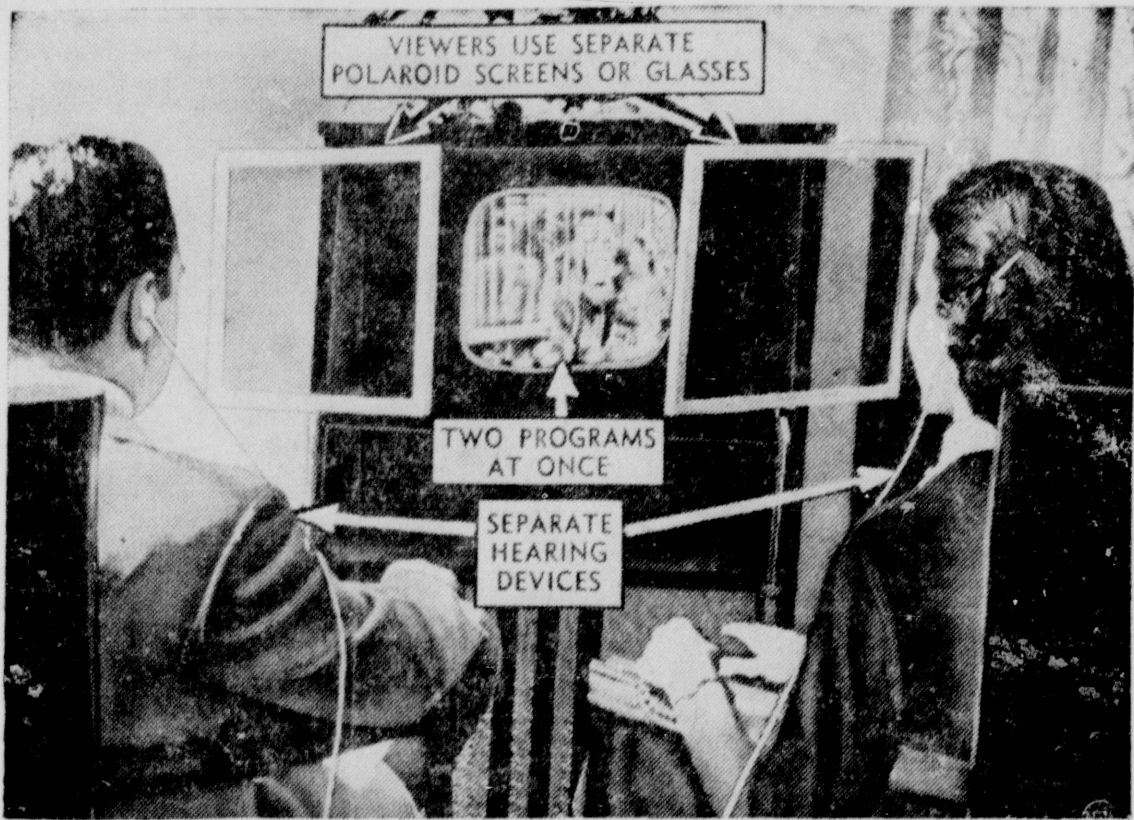

Dr. Sawyer listed these accomplishments:

1. Receipt of cash and pledges totaling $7,400,000, nearly $1,000,000 above the original campaign goal.

2. Acquisition of a 10-kilocurie source of radioactive cobalt in Canada—the most powerful source of gamma radiation in a non-government laboratory.

3. Start of construction on the Alice Lloyd Radiation Therapy Laboratory. This facility, named for the university's late dean of women, will study effectiveness of Cobalt 60 and Cesium 137 in treating cancer.

The Grand Marais cagers lost a close one recently to Munising "B" team 44-43. The score was close throughout the game and up to the last second the game was still in doubt. At the end of the 1st quarter the score was Munising 8, Grand Marais 7; the second quarter Munising 20, GM 15; third quarter Munising 32, GM 27. Grand Marais pulled up in the last quarter and Bob Erickson sunk a crib during the last seconds which would have won the game. The point was not counted however, because one of the Grand Marais boys was out of bounds. High point man for Grand Marais was Bill McDonald

Freshman Lawmaker Draws Highest Pay

DENVER (AP)—The Colorado Legislature's newest member also is its most highly paid.
Republican Sen. Fay De Berard of Kremmling will get $10 a day more than any other member. Here's why:

Last year the Legislature voted each member of future assemblies a $10-a-day expense allowance, in addition to the $10 daily pay and $50 monthly salary.
The law said it would become effective for any legislator appointed or elected after Dec. 1, 1953. De Berard was named late in December to fill a vacancy.

Some furniture was saved, the fire department reports.

Gilroy, who was in Manistique with two of his three children, when the fire started, is reported to have had some insurance on the dwelling. Mrs. Gilroy is in Petoskey.

The city pump was at the fire more than two hours.

Schoolcraft Hospital Has Profitable Year

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital averaged 30.4 patients per day during 1953, an increase of 3.4 patients per day over the 1952 statistics, a report presented by Kenneth D. Moburg, hospital administrator, to the board of trustees indicates.

Percentage-wise, this means that the hospital's average occupancy for the year was 91.9 per cent, Moburg noted. During three months of the year, the hospital's monthly occupancy exceeded 100 per cent.

An increase also was noted in the number of patient days of care rendered. In 1952 the figure was 9,897 days and in the past year it was 11,097 patient days of care.

Every department of the hospital showed an increase in utilization during the past year except the maternity section, Moburg reported to hospital trustees. Only 270 babies were born in the hospital in 1953, as compared with 286 in 1952.

Moburg's report indicated that financially the hospital's operation also was successful. Total income for 1953 was $178,319.56 and expenses totaled $168,345.72. This excess of income over expense, $9,973.84, can be attributed to increased occupancy, the administrator stated, because the hospital's charges are based on an anticipated occupancy of about 80 per cent.

High School Teams Begin Intramural Play Here Tuesday

New teams have been selected in the Manistique High School basketball intramural program and league play began Tuesday night in the old gymnasium.

High school boys entered in intramural competition began practice Nov. 9 and continued through Jan. 11, after which new teams were organized by the four coaches and William J. Cook, athletic director.

An effort was made to pick teams which were as evenly balanced as possible, Cook pointed out, and necessary adjustments will be made after one round of play.

An innovation this year is division of the playing schedule into two parts, from each of which a championship team will emerge. The change was made because school coaches have found that some teams are slow to start and improve in the latter part of the season, but are held back by their early season record, Director Cook said.

Schedule 36 Games
If two different teams win in the first and second half of league play, these teams will be paired for a championship game. Tabulations will be kept on results of each game.

Students from the 9th grade through the 12th grade are participating in the intramural program. Coaches are Taisto Orhanen, Robert Ebl, Richard Bonifas and Douglas Elder.

Thirty-six games are scheduled for the high school cagers, from Jan. 19 through March 18. Coaches will referee the games, all of which will be played in the old gymnasium.

Personnel of the "A" league teams are as follows:

The Teams
Team 1—Dan LaFave, Robert LaLonde, James Cowman, Doug Norton, Mike Radgens, Bill Sheehan, Larry Larson, Dale Russell, Dan Harbick, Tom Grimsley, Curtis Jones, Willard Edwards, Dale Paradise, Maurice Creeger and Emmett LaFolle. Coach, Taisto Orhanen.

Team 2—Herbert Calhoun, Gary Farley, Roger Tyrrell, Dave Heinz, Jack Tuftell, Loyal Archey, Paul Robert, Ken LaPorte, Warren Deloria, Stan Arnold, John Brockhart, Millard Edwards, Jack Harbick, Dennis Moreau, Pat LaFave and Elwood (Woody) Taylor, Robert Ebl, coach.

New Tourist Guide Will Be Issued Soon

A new tourist guide superior to any prepared in recent years will be issued this year by Top O'Lake Chamber of Commerce, Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary, reports.

In addition to Manistique proper, the folder will contain information on the surrounding area, including Seney, Germfask, Blaney Park, Gulliver, Thompson, the Garden peninsula, Cooks and the Hiawatha National Forest.

In 1953 the Chamber of Commerce printed 15,000 vacationland folders, all of which have been distributed, and plans call for printing another issue of 20,000 this year.

New pictures and new colors will be used and it is hoped copies can be distributed in April. Not more than three inches of advertising is being accepted from any one person this year, to enable small resorts and business places to be represented in the brochure.

The Big Spring will be featured in the folder, as well as the Hiawatha National Forest and the many surrounding lakes. The local Chamber of Commerce mails copies of these to all sections of the

A double bill of fare in basketball will be offered here tonight when the Manistique Merchants meet Rapid River and Cooks and Gulliver tangle in a city-league match.

The games will be played in the old high school gymnasium, with the city league game coming off first, beginning at 7:15 p. m.

Plans have been made to book games each Monday and Wednesday night in the old gym, beginning at 7:15 p. m. The public is invited to the games.

Cagers in the Merchants lineup will have a close eye on the Cooks-Gulliver league game tonight, for Cooks has already won two victories over the Merchants, winning each time by only two points.

Hawks Are Set For Sentinel Invasion

The Escanaba Hawks will be out to challenge the invincibility of the Marquette Sentinels when the two teams face off at 8:15 in a Northern Michigan Hockey League clash at the fairgrounds rink tonight.

Marquette has had the Indian sign on the Hawks this season, coming out on top in all three previous games. The closest the Escanaba sextet could come was 4-3 in the second meeting. Marquette won the other two by identical 6-2 margins.

Big job for the Hawks tonight appears to be to keep young Bucky O'Neil from scoring in the early minutes of the game. The junior star has twice put Marquette ahead with lightning goals against the Hawks, and Escanaba has thus far been unable to overcome that handicap.

"We'll be ready for O'Neil tonight and he's going to find it a lot tougher to get through our defenses than in the past," Coach Mark Olson vowed today.

The Hawks haven't had too much success in the league this season but they've got a win over Calumet and a tie with Portage Lake to show for their scrappy efforts. They are determined to add Marquette to their string tonight.

Olson will skate on the second Hawk line with Joe Ricci and brother Ted. Hank Normand or Bob Higgins will fill in for the injured Buddy Provo on the first line with Bill Suriano and Doug Peterson. Bob Bizeau, Bill Buckland and John Cousineau make up the third line.

Ben Artwich will return to the Escanaba nets tonight after missing the exhibition game against the flashy Canadian Soo Contractors last Sunday.

Clarence Matt and Jim Ogle, former Marquette players, are expected to be available for defensive action against their former mates. Hubert Hamilton and Dick Johnson round out the Escanaba defensemen.

The rink at the fairgrounds remains in perfect condition as the result of the recent cold spell and should provide a fast surface for tonight's crowd.

The Escanaba-Marquette hockey series has become one of the most popular in the league and a large crowd is anticipated tonight. Marquette will be at full strength in an effort to gain ground on the league-leading Portage Lake Pioneers.

Mike Goymerac, youthful Escanaba goalie who made a hit with fans in Sunday's game here, will be available for relief duty in the Hawks' nets tonight, Olson said today.

Hall Of Fame Opened Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's Hall of Fame, now numbering 70 members, is expected to be increased by two and perhaps as many as five today when the ballots are counted in the 14th annual election.

The ballots of some 300 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, have been under lock and key in Commissioner Ford Frick's office.

Rules of the election require that a player's name be on 75 per cent of the ballots, and he must have been out of organized ball at least five years.

Those who received more than 100 votes last year — Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankee Clipper; Bill Dickey, former catcher and now coach with the Yankees; and Ted Lyons, ex-Chicago White Sox pitcher and manager and now Brooklyn coach — are exempt from the latter rule.

Walter (Rabbit) Marandville, the great little shortstop who died recently, appears to be the outstanding candidate. Last year he received 174 votes, 24 short of election.

Bill Terry, one of the all-time New York Giant greats and former manager, also is considered a strong candidate. Terry polled 191 votes a year ago.

Lawrence Tech Is Still Undefeated

DETROIT (AP)—The Blue Devils of Lawrence Tech had a narrow escape but are still among the nation's fast dwindling list of unbeaten basketball squads.

Tech was handed a good scare by Otterbein College, a tiny West-ville, Ohio, school Tuesday night before emerging with a new all-time school record of 14 straight victories. The final score: 58-43.

After trailing at the half 25-18, Otterbein came to life with a 21-point third period to lead 39-34.

But then Tech got its fast break moving into high gear and began to feed the ball to Werner Killen, their high scoring 6-foot-8 center. Killen hit for 12 points in the final period. He took scoring honors with a 23-point total.

The standard NBA contract calls for automatic suspension of any player who gambles on the games, regardless of whether he bets for or against his team. Molinas has declared he bet only on his team to win.

The New York Knickerbockers, leaders of the eastern division in the NBA, were hard pressed in their 78-75 victory over the Milwaukee Hawks Tuesday night. The Philadelphia Warriors broke a four-game losing streak by defeating the Boston Celtics 89-73 and the second-place Rochester Royals handed Fort Wayne a 73-67 setback.

Bob Cousy, star Celtic guard, was held to one field goal and four fouls by Philadelphia's Paul Walthers. Cousy was banished by referee Sid Borgia in the fourth period for insulting remarks.

Jack Dempsey Urges Elimination Tourney

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey today suggested an elimination tournament to uncover a "real" challenger to Rocky Marciano's title.

Dempsey, visiting hospitalized vets at the nearby Great Lakes Naval Training Center, said that former champion Ezzard Charles, while appearing a worthy contender, still should dispose of Nino Valdes for the right to fight Marciano.

Charles was outpointed by Dempsey last year.

Dempsey said the elimination should be conducted between Charles, Valdes, Dan Bucceroni and Danny Nardico.

"Tex Rickard made me go through an elimination before I got my title shot against Jess Willard. It started at Fort Sheridan (Ill.) when I knocked out Jim Flynn in 1918.

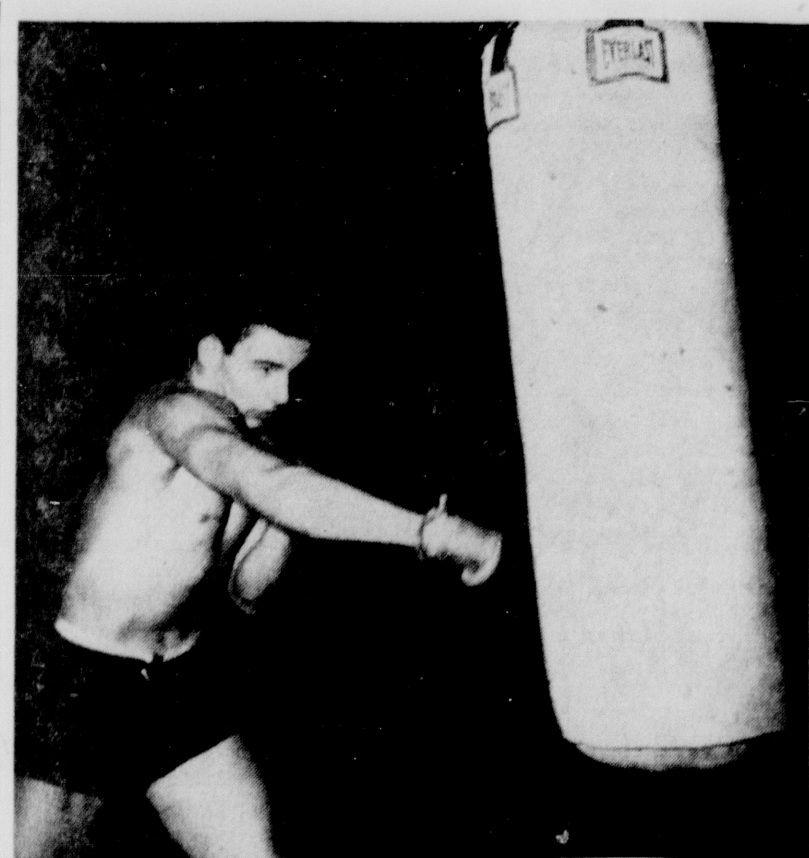

"Then Rickard made me fight Bill Brennan, Fred Fulton and Carl Morris, before he would consider me for Willard."

Dempsey knocked out Flynn, Fulton and Morris in one round and Brennan in six. Then in 1919 he made a bloody mess of Willard to take the heavyweight title in three rounds.

Hire Hornsby Bat Coach For Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, dismissed as manager of the St. Louis Browns and Cincinnati Red Legs in the last two years, today was named a Chicago White Sox batting instructor for the club's pre-spring training camp at Hollywood, Fla.

The Rajah, all-time great as second baseman with a career batting average of .359 in the National League, will start his new assignment March 1.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT—Vic Sopina, Escanaba light heavyweight boxer, crosses a right to the punching bag in a workout at Club 314 as the Escanaba boxing team trains for the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves championship tournament to be staged here Feb. 1-2. Sopina is one of seven Escanaba boys working out three times weekly for the tournament. He will be making his first appearance in the ring. (Daily Press Photo)

Perkins Cagers Score 81-43 Win Over Eben

PERKINS—All eight of Coach Tom Gerovac's Perkins cagers got into action last night and everyone contributed to the scoring effort in posting an 81-43 U. P. Central League victory over Eben.

The defending league champs took a 20-3 lead in the first period and were never threatened.

Pacing the winners was Larry Hermanson who fired for 16 points. Norbert Deloria scored 14. Gustafson hit 14 and freshman Ron Deloria contributed 11.

Scoring heavily for the winless Eben team coached by Les Latalva were Roland Kaupilla with 13 and Edwin Heribachka with 11. It was the 10th straight loss for Eben.

St. Louis Students Seek Ways To Stop Sports Rowdiness

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis high school students, casting a worried eye on the recent Detroit incident, are trying to find a way to promote better sportsmanship among prep athletes fans.

There have been some cases of rowdiness at St. Louis prep events, but nothing to match the Detroit flareup in which a star basketball center was stabbed and seriously wounded. The stabbing led to a ban on all night athletics in Detroit's public high schools.

In St. Louis, the all-city high school student council thinks it may be a good idea to set up some type of reward for good sportsmanship. Trophies, certificates or an extra school holiday have been considered.

The council condemned excessive "riding" of referees, booing opposing players, and attempts to distract opposing players.

MUNISING—Coach Stan Whitman's Munising Mustangs reversed a previous decision here last night when they tripped the Gladstone Braves 53-44 in a Great Lakes Conference contest. Munising used a well-balanced through the second half but couldn't erase the deficit.

Center John Quinn had one of his best nights for Gladstone, wheeling in 23 points from the pivot for scoring honors. But Quinn had to carry most of the Brave's scoring burden while Munising had three players scoring in double figures. Hamilla hit 14, Depew 12 and Ron Beauchaine 11.

The Braves lost the services of two players on personal fouls late in the game. Duane Peterson and Dick Goodman fouled out in the fourth period while Munising didn't lose a player via the foul route.

The defeat was the fourth in a row for the Braves, but only the first in Great Lakes competition. They had previously defeated Munising 62-49 and Manistique 56-48 in league play.

The game at Munising was the third on the road in five days for Gladstone, coming after trips to St. Joseph and Stephenson. Gladstone is idle now until Jan. 29 when they entertain the Ishpeming Hematites.

The Bee team preliminary was a scorcher won by Munising, 60-50, in overtime after the score was tied 57-57 at the end of regulation time.

Irish Cagers Highly Rated

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame, for years a synonym for winning football, this winter has produced one of its finest basketball teams.

Beaten by Indiana and Bradley early in the season, the Irish climbed to sixth in The Associated Press poll after whipping previously unbeaten Holy Cross by 22 points last week.

Tuesday night the Irish trounced Purdue 95-74 for their 10th victory. Joe Bertrand scored 25 points and four other Notre Dame players collected 10 or more.

Howard Cann, veteran coach at New York University, says balance appears to be the big thing in Notre Dame's favor.

"What a bench they've got," he declared after a losing trip to South Bend. "I couldn't tell any difference between their first five and their next seven. Any one of them could be a starter for me. And their freshmen—terrific!"

Holy Cross, which had won 11 straight until it ran afoul of Notre Dame, added No. 2 to its new winning streak with an 82-67 decision over Dartmouth. Togo Palazzi scored 38 points.

North Carolina State knocked North Carolina out of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference in a rough-and-tumble 84-77 encounter at Chapel Hill. Seventy-four fouls were called and State scored 38 points on free throws.

DETROIT Prep Ban Won't Affect State Cage Tournament

LANSING (AP)—The ban on night high school basketball games in Detroit won't affect the state high school basketball tournament. Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director, said today

"That is strictly a Detroit situation," Forsythe said. "We've never had any trouble like that at a high school tournament and I don't recall anything like that happening in connection with any night games outstate."

Switch To Director Small Step For Munn

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP)—The switch from the role of football coach to athletic director at Michigan State won't be as much of a change for Biggie Munn as a lot of people might think.

Munn is known mostly as a phenomenally successful football coach. But he also has an extensive background in other sports.

"Football is the big financial sport, of course," Munn said, "and I'll naturally always be interested in it. But I want to emphasize that I won't neglect other sports to football. I love them all."

In high school, Munn was a letterman in track and basketball as well as football. He also participated in gymnastics.

All-Around Athlete

Munn was a guard on the high school basketball team that was runner-up for the Minnesota state championship. With the track team, he set a state javelin record, threw the shot and discus, ran the 100-yard dash and was anchor man on the relay team.

"I ran the 100 in 10:01," Munn said. "But of course, that was more than 25 years ago."

At Minnesota, where he was a football assistant, Munn also was acting track coach for two years.

While with little Albright College at Reading, Pa., Munn was athletic director for two years as well as coach of football, track, baseball and basketball.

"It was on a lot smaller scale," Munn said, "but it was good all-around experience."

Munn also ran sports programs in boys camps for 10 years and had charge of a variety of minor sports.

Few Pro Prospects

When the pro football teams start making their draft choices, don't be surprised if Michigan State is way down on the list as far as the number of men tapped is concerned. The trouble is, most of the best men on the Michigan State squad are just too light for professional play.

Saginaw's Jimmy Ellis already has been spoken for—by the Cleveland Browns. They think he'll make good as a defensive safetyman.

Capt. Don Dohoney, as a defensive end, is likely to attract the most active interest. Lansing tackle Larry Fowler and center Jim Neal of Muskegon, both over 200 pounds, should get some offers.

The rest of the MSC linebacks are pretty light for pro ball.

More Phillies Turn Back 1954 Contracts

NEW YORK (AP)—The woes of the Philadelphia Phillies continued to pile up today as infielder Grady Hamner, pitcher Jim Konstanty and first baseman Earl Torgeson returned unsigned 1954 contracts.

Only eight of the 37 players on the Phils roster have signed their contracts.

Those who have rejected contracts include pitchers Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons, catcher Smokey Burgess, outfielder Richie Ashburn and first baseman Eddie Waitkus.

Oklahoma Grid Star Gets Lineman Honors

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Oklahoma's 202-pound All-America guard J.D. Roberts will receive the Lineman of the Year award from the Philadelphia Sports Writers Assn. Monday.

Roberts, who completed his college career by starring in the Sooners' upset victory over Maryland on New Year's Day in the Orange Bowl, was selected in a poll of 100 of the nation's top college football coaches.

President Of Orioles Praises Braves Fans

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The man who'd like to beat Milwaukee's National League attendance record told a cheering crowd of fans Tuesday night that they were the best thing that had happened to baseball since Babe Ruth.

Clarence W. Miles, president of the fledgling Baltimore Orioles of the American League, told an overflow crowd of 500 at the first annual "diamond dinner" of the Milwaukee Baseball Writers, that the admittance of Milwaukee to the National League and Baltimore to the American will "promote the welfare of baseball."

Miles said the next impetus baseball needed was for the Braves to win the National League pennant this summer "or for someone in our league to knock off the New York Yankees."

Miles tossed a pair of challenges at the Braves, both involving attendance.

"We very likely will beat Milwaukee's paid admissions," he said. "The goal of our community is an attendance of not less than two million."

"In addition, I invite the Braves to play us at Baltimore on a mutual open date and we'll draw more people than saw any game at Milwaukee all last summer."

The Braves last year set a National League attendance mark of 1,826,397 in County Stadium, which seated 36,000. The capacity will be increased to about 43,000 this summer. Baltimore's Municipal Stadium seats 32,000.

Awards were made by the writers to Eddie Mathews and Bill Bruton, named the Braves' most valuable and rookie of the year, respectively, and George (Duffy) Lewis, the club's traveling secretary, for meritorious contributions to baseball.

Troops In Korea Nab Red Spies

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—Communist spies sneak southward across Korea's neutral zone almost every night and U. N. troops are capturing or killing many of them.

Many spies try to reach South Korea in the area near Panmunjom, but smaller numbers are infiltrating southward all across the front, it was reported.

U. N. troops also are said to be picking up a steady stream of deserting Red soldiers, including some who say they were South Koreans captured by the Reds and impressed into the Communist army.

The U. N. Command repeatedly has accused the Communists of failing to liberate all war prisoners who wanted to return home.

One Allied platoon stationed only a few yards from the barbed wire boundary of the neutral zone, said it picks up several spies and deserters every week.

The leaders said those that are captured are turned over to the U. N. Command authorities for questioning. Communist deserters also go to higher headquarters.

Woman Dethroned As Target Champion

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Just about a year ago this place was filled by the announcement that a woman, Mrs. Olive Walker of Ilion, N. Y., had trimmed all the men searching for the ultimate in rifle accuracy.

Using a heavy .222 Remington she had plunked 10 shots into a 100-yard target to make one ragged hole smaller than the nail on your pinky finger, a group measuring only .3268 inches across centers of the outermost shots, to be exact about it. This was hailed not only as a signal victory for the feminine gender in the battle of and shaped the stock himself. It is most fitting that the wild-cat cartridge Hollidge was shooting, the .219 Donaldson Wasp, was the prize design of the chap who perhaps more than any other is responsible for the post-war growth of bench rest shooting in this country, Harvey Donaldson. It is just possible that that unattainable ideal may be attained during Donaldson's lifetime—but even if it doesn't he'll have the satisfaction of seeing people like Hollidge, shooting Twentieth Century rifles, come closer to it than anyone has since the Chinese invented gunpowder.

The wedge-tailed eagle, also known as the eagle-hawk, is the world's largest eagle, says the National Geographic Society. Its nest may be eight feet in diameter and nearly as deep.

the sexes—but as a virtually unbeatable record as well.

But it wasn't. Last May your correspondent himself came within a few thousandths of an inch of cracking it in a shoot at Dubois, Pa., and two other super-accuracy bugs in the same competition came almost as close.

Of course, in the bench rest game, a miss by hundredths of an inch, or even by thousandths, is as good as a country mile. The close ones are checked under a microscope!

But in September the accuracy record came back into masculine hands at Johnstown, N. Y. The winner was Colonel Crawford Hollidge who heads up one of Boston's biggest and finest department stores. He squeezed his 10 bullets into .2677 inches. That record will never be broken—until another accuracy fan puts together fine shooting conditions and another incredibly fine rifle.

That might take as much as another year, the way things go in the bench rest game!

Hollidge's rifle, some 18 pound of gun, started from a Mauser action and a Buhmiller custom barrel, chambered and fitted by an upper New York State gunsmith named Bob Wallace. As far as I know, Colonel Hollidge fitted

Banks Report Rise In Earnings For '53

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Eighteen billion-dollar banks in the nation report total resources and earnings rose in 1953.

But 13 of them report total deposits slipped a little from former record highs. The 18, however, hold about one-fourth of the nation's total bank deposits.

Each of the 18 banking giants has both deposits and resources in excess of one billion dollars.

The top bank in both categories is the Bank of America National Trust & Savings Assn., San Francisco. Its resources and deposits are each around the eight billion dollar figure.

Deposits Slip

If you could combine the 18 top banks, you'd have a financial concern with total resources of $50,590,748,000. This was a gain of 34 million dollars in the total resources of the same 18 banks at the start of last year.

Combined deposits of the 18 billion-dollar club members total $45,891,890,303. This was a dip of around 86 million dollars during the year.

Total deposits in all of the nation's banks at the end of 1953 aren't yet available.

For most banks earnings were up pleasantly in 1953, even if total deposits slipped a little. This was because the total of bank loans was higher; and because interest rates on these loans were mostly higher, too.

Bank statements of the 18 giants show they are no exception. Operating earnings of the Bank of America rose 10 per cent in 1953, and the National City Bank of New York, the second largest in the nation, reports a gain of 9 per cent.

Bankers Sensitive

These could well prove to be above the average for the nation as a whole, when all bank earnings statements are in and tabulated. The latest available figures show the Federal Reserve Board reporting that its 6,800 member banks earned about 5 per cent more in the first half of 1953 than in the similar period the year before. The six-month profits after taxes totalled around 436 million dollars, the board reports. Before taxes, the earnings gain was 16 per cent.

Bankers are sensitive about any misunderstanding of their earnings increase, however. The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, in its annual report out today, shows a before-tax earnings gain of about 5 per cent. But the nation's third largest bank points out that bank earnings last year were low in comparison with other industries.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.
